COLUMBIA, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY September 22 1920.

NUMBER 48.

OIL NEWS.

[BY E. T. KEMPER.]

According to Mr. E. E. Loomis, secretary of the Kentucky Oil Men's Association, the value of the oil production in the State for the year 1920, will reach $40,000,000 as against $25,000,000 in 1919.

Mr. Frank Sweet, head of the drilling operations for the Beacon Oil Syndicate and others at Creelsboro, was in town Friday last and reported development work being pushed there as fast as conditions will permit. Mr. Sweet has great faith in this territory developing into a big field.

The Carnahan Oil Company report their well No. 1 in Rock House Bottom, Russell county, is nearing completion and they are expecting to "drill in" early this week. Another break in machinery has again delayed their drilling operations on the Ingram farm near Columbia.

Mr. T. A. Sheridan, a well-known contractor and capitalist from Cincinnati, and Mr. G. A. Roy, president and general manager of the Roy Petroleum Company, were here the latter part of the week on a general inspection trip of this territory, taking in portions of Adair, Russell and Clinton counties. This was the first visit of Mr. Sheridan to this section, and he expressed himself as being well pleased with what he saw and learned while here.

The Columbia Development Company, a limited co-partnership composed of some of the most prominent people of this vicinity, has just been organized for the purpose of exploring for oil and gas, particularly the latter, in this immediate vicinity. The amount necessary for the prosecution of development work has already been subscribed, a contract has been let for drilling, one of the most up-to-date rigs in the country is on the way here, and the work will be pushed as fast as conditions will permit. It is believed by some of the best posted men in the business that gas can be found in such quantities in this vicinity that it will soon be possible to supply our people with all they will need for heating and manufacturing purposes.

The Roy Petroleum Company report they have been successful in their "fishing job" in well No. 1 on Damon's Creek; drilling operations have been resumed, and the work will now be pushed to the limit.

In the forthcoming report on the mineral resources of the State Hon. W. R. Jillison, State Geologist, says that substances that were formerly supposed to be of no value are now known to exist in commercial quantities in not less than thirty-three counties. In this statement he refers particularly to the Black or Devonian Shale, which is called the last resort for the world's lubricants, and it is interesting to note that Adair county is named as one of the prominent localities where the outcroppings are visible. Reference was made recently in this column to the possibilities for the production of oil from shale, and experiments along this line are now being conducted on a large scale in Utah and Colorado.

Miss Julia Eubank, after spending three weeks in the market, is now at her place of business. She has all the latest creations in hats for ladies and children.

Senator J. C. W. Beckham will address the voters of Adair County, at the court-house, Wednesday September 29, at 2 m. He will be introduced by Mrs. R. F. Rowe. All ladies are requested to be present.

Mr. W. I. Ingram and Mrs. Jo Knifley accompanied Mrs. Ingram as far as Lebanon, on her trip to Cincinnati, to see her daughter, Mrs. Paul Hamilton. Mr. Knifley was also in the company, but he was en route to Montana.

A TRIBUTE TO A LONG LIFE.

[BY H. C. BAKER.]

Mrs. Esther Dohoney, who died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Nannie Flowers, in this place, on Monday evening, the 13th inst., was the oldest person in the county, and we presume one of the oldest women in the State.

She was born in this county the 2nd day of May, 1818, and at the time of her death was one hundred and two years, four months and eleven days old. She belonged to one of the pioneer families of the State. Her grandfather, Alexander Gilmer, owned at an early day a large boundary of land, which embraced in part the farms now owned by his lineal descendants, Thomas and John C. Dohoney, and he built a three story brick house now gone, on the Jno. C. Dohoney land. His son, James Gilmer, father of Mrs. Dohoney, was one of the organizers of Adair county, and one of the founders of the town of Columbia. He was a member of the first county court of the county, receiving his commission as a justice from Governor James Garrard. This court held its first session in June, 1802. Many of the records of the court for years afterwards are attested by his signature as presiding officer.

The Gilmers came to Kentucky from the Old Dominion, Virginia, and were representatives of that noble type of men who at that early day sought homes in the wilderness of Kentucky and who assisted in opening up the cane breaks and forests into farms, and laying the foundation of the organized society, the benefits of which we are the recipients today.

Mrs. Dohoney received the advantages of such schools of the county as were accessible at that day. In 1836 she was in attendance at a school taught in Columbia by Rev. John Page, a Presbyterian preacher, and it was probably under his ministry that she became a member of the Presbyterian church with which she was connected for more than eighty years. This was the faith of her fathers, and it was in this faith that she lived and died. She united with the church when she was about fifteen years old. In the said school, in addition to its other advantages, she was brought into association with many bright boys and girls who were afterwards prominent in their several spheres in the home and in the State. In this school were the Caldwell boys, George Alfred and Isaac, afterwards prominent lawyers of Louisville, Preston H. Leslie, Governor of the State, Samuel B. Maxey, United States Senator from Texas, Timoleon Cravens, State Elector, Gen. S. G. Suddarth, and others well-known and influential in their day. It was in this school that Judge Zach Wheat, Timoleon Cravens, Gen. Suddarth and others found wives to grace their homes in after years.

December 19th, 1844, Esther Gilmer was married to Wm. Rhodes Dohoney, who during his life was a prominent citizen and prosperous farmer of the county. There were born to them three sons and two daughters, one of the daughters died in infancy. The other children are all living, and besides these she leaves surviving her 19 grandchildren and ten great grandchildren. All of her sons are officers in the church, two of them elders and one a deacon, and of her grandsons, one an elder and two deacons, and all of them prosperous and influential in the communities in which they live.

In this can be seen the impress of her life and Christian character, for it is in the home at last that woman's influence is best exerted and felt. Reared in a Christian atmosphere that gave tone and strength to her own life with length of days, she saw to it that the same influences were about her children and her children's children. They became to her the crowning joy of her old age. She ruled well in her household, and in contemplating her life, it could truly be said of her,

"Happy shalt thou be, and it shall be well with thee!"

"Her children rise up to bless her." She was a woman of excellent mind, not only of past events and persons, but also of more recent occurrences. This continued with her to the day of her death. A few years ago she accidentally fell, and one of her hips was fractured, which left her an invalid. With the passing years also came blindness and partial deafness, yet, none of these things seemed to disturb the serenity of her life. She lived on, peacefully, happily,

"Rich in experience that angels might covet, Rich in faith that had grown with her years," taking a lively interest and pleasure in her family and friends.

As the end of her life drew near, the veil that separated her from the loved ones who had gone before seemed at times to be removed. They sat beside her and conversed with her; she saw their faces, and at times sweet music was wafted to her that other's did not hear. Who knows how thin that veil may be to one who has lived for God and is close to heaven.

"Eyes that grow dim to the earth and its glory
Have sweet recompense earth can not know,
Ears that grow dull to the world and its story,
Drink in the songs that from paradise flow,
Growing old gracefully,
Purer than snow."

An Aged and Honorable Couple.

I recently spent a night with my old friend, Henry J. Henson, and enjoyed the privilege very much. I learned the following from him concerning himself and family which I feel should have a place in the Adair County News, as it is so much out of the ordinary.

He was born in Casey, Co., Ky., Nov. 2, 1836. Was married first to a Miss Holladay, daughter of William Holladay, of Adair Co. She did not live long and was married the second time to Miss Mary Tupman, daughter of Hon. John Tupman, May 23, 1866. This union was blessed with 11 children, 9 of whom are still living. The parents are now alone at their home in the Carmel community, and are busy about their work daily. He is nearly 84 years old and she is about 8 years his junior. He made a constant hand on the farm this year, plowing much and did a great deal in harvest time, cutting a large amount of grass himself, looked after licensed stock, etc. They have 53 grandchildren living and 10 that are dead. They have 26 great grandchildren living and 2 that are dead. I wish for them many more years of useful living here, and then a happy death and an abundant entrance into the city beyond the skies.

Sincerely,
Jesse L. Murrell.

Prominent Couple Wed.

Last Friday evening, between 8 and 9 o'clock, Mr. J. O. Russell, prominent merchant and financier, of this place, was married to Mrs. Ruby Turney, formerly of Chattanooga, Tenn.

The ceremony took place in the dormitory of the Lindsey-Wilson and was performed by Rev. R. V. Bennett, brother-in-law of the bride. There were only a few witnesses present.

Immediately after the ceremony the couple were motored to the groom's handsome home on Jamestown street.

The bride is an accomplished lady, and was the widow of Dr. Frank Turney, of Chattanooga, who died about two years ago. For the past year she has had charge of the music department of the Lindsey-Wilson, and has made a large circle of friends in Columbia.

The groom is one of the best known men in Adair county, and is prominent over the State, having a large acquaintance.

An Acknowledgement.

Editor News:—

We are now comfortably settled in our new home and take this method of thanking our dear friends for the lovely gift of remembrance presented to us while in our old home. We had expected to meet them on Wednesday evening before we left home and thank them personally, but circumstances prevented. It came to us as a complete surprise, and we shall always consider it one of our most valued gifts, not on account of its intrinsic worth, but for the kindly thought which it expressed, and to each of the dear friends we extend our heartfelt thanks for their loving gift.

Each Sunday morning at the hour for Sunday school and preaching service, our hearts turn to the dear old Columbia Church, and in fancy we can see the familiar faces of those with whom we have been so long and so pleasantly associated, both in the Church and social life, but we have come to know that nothing happens to us that does not make for better things and this separation will only strengthen the tie that binds us to our dear Columbia friends, whom we hope to see in the not distant future.

We are very pleasantly situated here, but no place can ever be as dear to us as the home in which we have spent almost our entire past lives.

With best wishes for all of our friends, and prosperity for the News.

Yours etc.,
Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Page.

Do not fail to be in Columbia Wednesday September 29th and hear Sen. Beckham. He will be introduced by Mrs. R. F. Rowe.

Mr. G. B. Swinebroad, the successful real estate man of Lancaster, sold the W. C. Cowherd farm in Taylor county last week. It was sold in two tracts and the whole brought $8,638. Swinebroad never fails to sell and he gets big money for the owner.

Mr. Jas. Flowers, of Illinois, is visiting relatives in the city and county. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Columbus Flowers, who live in New Mexico. Mrs. W. R. Myers, this place is his aunt.

At Knifley, this county, Monday night of last week, Mrs. D. Knifley, a highly respected lady, died after a long illness. She will be sadly missed, not only by those who were near and dear to her, but by the entire community. The last sad rites were largely attended.

Be in Columbia next Wednesday, September 29th and hear Senator J. C. W. Beckham. He has a message that will entertain you.

A Quiet Wedding.

Last Wednesday forenoon Miss Verly Phelps, the popular daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Bhaips, this place, and Mr. Jacob Myers, of Canton, Ohio, were quietly married at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. T. J. Wade, Presiding Elder of the Columbia District, officiating.

Immediately after the ceremony the couple left for Louisville, Cincinnati and other points, accompanied by Mr. William Hurt Browning and Miss Jewel Phelps, sister of the bride.

We have not been informed, but we take it that the home of the contracting parties will be Canton, Ohio.

The bride has been in school here for a number of years and is popular with all her schoolmates, and she will be greatly missed by the young society people, and who wish her much happiness as she and her companion travel down the stream of Time.

The groom is a young business man, who is prospering in his home city.

All Columbia joins the News in extending best wishes.

Call and get the prices of all the late style hats at the store of Miss Julia Eubank.

Approaching Marriage.

On Tuesday the 23th of September Mr. Chester Earl Scaif, who was partly reared in this place, a son of Mrs. Nannie Scaif and a nephew of Mr. R. H. Price, who lives just out of town, will be married to Miss Naomi Calander, of Louisville, where both the intended bride and groom reside.

Mrs. R. H. Price left Friday morning to be present at the nuptials. The couple will spend their honeymoon in the East.

The intended groom's Columbia friends extend best wishes.

Arm Broken.

Last Thursday about the noon hour, Thomas, a six year old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Conover, who is in the Graded school, happened to a serious accident. He was playing with other children and was accidentally pushed off the stiles, breaking his right arm above the wrist. Drs. Russell and Hindman reduced the fracture. It is hoped that it will soon be well.

A band of rovers landed here the first of last week and camped near the Harris Bridge. There were a number of men, women and children in the aggregation and six wagons and teams and some led horses. They claimed to be traders and fortune tellers.

Mr. W. H. Shipp removed his family from Columbia to Bowling Green last week. He had some trouble in securing a residence but finally succeeded. Wespoke of the good qualities of this family in a former issue.

Died at Esto.

Last Thursday at Esto, Russell county, Mr. Wesley Grider, who was about 78 years old, succumbed to the inevitable and crossed over to the other side. He was a soldier in the Federal army during the war of the rebellion. He was a most exemplary citizen, a man who had the respect of all who knew him. His funeral was attended by a large circle of relatives and friends.

There is no let up in the attendance of the meeting at the Methodist church. Rev. May is delivering soul stirring sermons, and a large number have confessed their Savior. Misses Frances Russell and Louise Rowe, violinists, are adding to the music. Later, the meeting closed Sunday night—39 addition to the Church.

Adair Awarded Premiums.

At the State Fair, last week, Adair county was awarded more premiums on Burley tobacco than Shelby and Fayette counties combined. T. I. Smith, of Cane Valley, won first and second on bright leaf, cigarette wrappers and bright trash; and for the best four samples of the 1920 crop he won first on bright trash and second on red leaf. The dark entries sent by Adair county farmers were lost. If they could have been presented they too would have won.

Askel Bibee and Frank Bennett are brothers-in-law, and they had trouble at Bennett's home last Friday about the noon hour. The cause of the trouble, as told by Bibee is as follows: Bennett and his wife had quarreled in the morning, and while at the dinner table Bibee was shaming them for their conduct. Bennett became furious, jumped up from the table and knocked Bibee in the head with a stick of stove wood, cutting two ugly gashes. Dr. O. P. Miller closed up the wounds.

Pains Were Terrific

Read how Mrs. Albert Gregory, of R. F. D. No. 1, Blufford, Ill., got rid of her ills. "During . . . I was awfully weak . . . My pains were terrific. I thought I would die. The bearing-down pains were actually so severe I could not stand the pressure of my hands on the lower part of my stomach . . . I simply felt as if life was for but a short time. My husband was worried . . . One evening, while reading the Birthday Almanac, he came across a case similar to mine, and went straight for some Cardui for me to try.

"I took it faithfully and the results were immediate," adds Mrs. Gregory. "I continued to get better. All my ills left me, and I went through . . . with no further trouble. My baby was fat and strong, and myself—thank God—am once more hale and hearty, can walk miles, do my work, though 44 years old, feel like a new person. All I owe to Cardui." For many years Cardui has been found helpful in building up the system when run down by disorders peculiar to women.

"Untold Miseries."

Young Mr. Will Hays went up to Maine the other day and exhorted the Republicans of that State to help save the country from the wicked Wilsonism that has "brought untold miseries upon a people who have every right to be prosperous and contented."

These "untold miseries" are evidently confidential on the part of young Mr. Hays, but it is easy to enumerate them.

They do not apply to the working population of the country, of course, for wages were never before so high, the demand for labor was never before so great and there was never so little unemployment. They do not apply to the farmers, who never before received such prices for their crops and were never so prosperous. They do not apply to the average business man, who has been making profits that he never dreamed of in former days.

As a whole the American people are the richest, the best fed—the best housed, best clothed and the best provided for of all the peoples in the world. But the Republican politicians, whom Mr. Hays represents, have suffered dreadfully during the last seven years. Thousands of them have been compelled to earn their own living, without assistance from the public payroll. Nobody can overestimate the anguish of a Republican office-seeker under a Democratic Administration, and that is what Mr Hays meant when he talked about "untold miseries."—New York World.

A Modern Menace.

We believe the average man who owns an automobile is reasonably considerate of the rights of other people. Were it otherwise the fatality list would be appalling.

But there is a limited class who respect neither person nor thing. They tear through the country at forty and fifty miles an hour, seldom slackening speed as they pass other cars on the road, and rendering the highways of travel more dangerous than a modern battlefield.

These men are a menace to every community through which they pass.

If they possessed either brains or decency they would be otherwise—but possessing neither, they become a public nuisance and should be sent to an asylum or a penitentiary.

Our laws are too lenient and their enforcement is too lax.

We consider it a justifiable act to kill a man who attacks us without provocation.

Yet the speed maniac, without provocation or excuse, kills and maims and is let off with a normal fine—or escapes entirely.

A snake is a snake, whether it crawls in the grass or races at the wheel of an automobile.

It is time for the public to begin a campaign of extermination.

Family Names.

"A great many family names represent the trade or occupations of our great-great-great grandfathers. John, the miller, and after that his descendants were known as Miller, says Clifford Howard in an article on the meaning of names in the September number of Boys' Life—"And Robert, the baker, started the family name of baker. And thus we have many other familiar family names—Carpenter, Mason, Taylor, Shoemaker, Brewer, Draper, Shepherd, Fisher, Hunter, Clark (clerk), Page, Harper, Singer and a whole lot more. But chief among them all is Smith. The reason there are so many Smiths today is because there used to be so many different kinds of smiths—blacksmiths, goldsmiths, silversmiths, coppersmiths, tinsmith, locksmith, arrowsmith, and so on. Each, for short, was known simply as a smith; and each different kind of smith started his own family of Smiths.

In many cases if there was something very striking about a man—if he was very short or had some peculiar trait or habit—it was used for starting a family name, and that's how we have such names as Little, Small, Ross (which means red) Black, Gray, White, Strong, Long, Longfellow, Whistler, Noble, Swift, Doolittle, Savage, wise and many many more of the same kind.

Millions For Road Building.

Washington.—Combined Federal and State expenditures for road building may reach a total of $220,000,000 during the current fiscal year, according to Thomas H. MacDonald, Chief of Bureau of Public Roads Department of Agriculture.

The last installment of Federal aid funds, totaling $100,000,000, became available last July 1. Three-quarters of this apportionment was derived from 1919 appropriations, while $25,000,000 was provided from original appropriation in 1916.

"If the States continue to pay more than 50 per cent of the cost as they have in the past," Mr. MacDonald, said, "it will be necessary to plan for construction at the rate of at least $100,000,000, and probably more, each year."

Look at the roads for twenty miles around on a Sunday

THERE isn't any "country" any more. The automobile has brought the most remote settlement almost as close to the center of things as the next county was in the old days.

To hear some tire dealers talk you might think that nobody knew anything about tires except the fellow from Broadway.

That's not the basis we go on.

We give every man credit for knowing what he is spending his money on, whether he drives up here in his small car from ten miles out in the country or is passing through from the capital in his limousine.

That's one thing we like about U. S. Tires.

They make no distinction between the small car owner and the owner of the biggest car in the country.

It's all the same to them. So long as a man owns an automobile—large or small—he's entitled to the very best tire they can give him.

Quality has always been the outstanding feature of U. S. Tires. There's no limit on the U. S. guarantee. All U. S. Tires are guaranteed for the life of the tire.

We have given a lot of thought to this tire proposition. There is some advantage in being the representatives of the oldest and largest rubber concern in the world.

Drop in the next time you're down this way and let us tell you some interesting facts about tires.

BARTER IN AUSTRIA

Medium of Exchange as Paper Crowns Lose Value.

Peasant Demands Something More Valuable Than Paper Currency for His Products.

Vienna.—Only Americans of a generation ago who traded farm products at the crossroads store for everything from shoes to sugar can realize the extent of barter in Austria today.

With the country flooded with cheap money, the peasants' stockings and bank accounts fat with currency and legislation impending for a compulsory levy on fortunes, the paper crown virtually is spurned by those who produce the necessities of life.

For eggs or butter, cheese or white flour, fat geese and ducks, pork products and all the things that the Austrian city dweller must do without, the peasant wants something more valuable than the paper constantly turned out by the Austro-Hungarian banks.

Prodigious offers of crowns fall where a linen shirt, silk stockings (even much darned), rugs, musical instruments, shoes and such things bring results.

The story of how the bourgeoisie and poor nobility of Vienna have parted with their wardrobes and furniture, their pianos and carpets, for food, has been often told. Now everyone is getting back to first principles in trade.

Visiting a retired officer in his little country place the correspondent saw it work. The officer could not pay 500 crowns a pair for gloves for a wife and three daughters. But he had three roebuck hides from the animals he had shot this season. He exchanged them for two dressed hides. The village glover made them into gloves, taking in payment elder, nut-ton and some veal from the little farm.

Then came the problem of stockings, almost unpurchasable in Austria. There were 11 sheep grazing on the place. Sheared they yielded enough wool to exchange for yarn sufficient to knit the family hosiery for the coming winter.

The apple crop of this tiny estate has been mortgaged for grain to a neighbor who has no fruit and the miller will take his pay in toll.

The host who entertained in the little cottage now his home, fitted with American and English periodicals, once trod the quarter deck of his own cruiser. A uniform stripped of ornaments and recut in civilian style is his best suit.

Farmer, 17 Children, Has Funds in 8 Banks

Sunbury, Pa.—With seventeen children in his family, Delmar F. Campbell, a farmer in Lower Augusta township, Northumberland county, has money in eight banks.

He testified to that amazing fact before Judge Cummings in defense of a suit his wife brought for an accounting of farm income during the last twelve years. He declared under oath that he paid all the taxes on the place, clothed and fed the family and paid for property improvements. Lawyers say the bank deposits total more than $10,000.

The Campbells have been married more than thirty years. For several years they have lived in the same house and eaten at the same table, but do not speak.

Husband and wife have each employed high-priced lawyers, and, inasmuch as both sides will have to take their expenses out of the family fund, no matter who wins, both must lose, one of the lawyers said.

ZULUS HONOR LORD BUXTON

Give British Governor-General Farewell Ovation—Express Affection and Esteem.

Durban, South Africa.—The chief of the Zulu nation, his ringed headmen and many minor chiefs, recently assembled in the courthouse at Maritzburg and delivered speeches of affection and esteem for Lord Sidney Charles Buxton, retiring governor general of South Africa, and Lady Buxton, who accompanied him on the farewell visit. There was an enthusiastic demonstration.

The courthouse was packed with Zulus, some of them in frock coats and wearing medals received for bravery in the war, but others, also wearing medals, were clad only in the primitive Zulu fashion.

The governor general thanked the Zulus for their excellent behavior during the war.

Aged 72, Cycles Long Way.

Blair, Neb.—John Warner, seventy-two years old, of San Diego, Cal., who is visiting friends here, has just completed a bicycle trip from California. When he found himself near the seventy-year-old mark, and in poor health, he took up bicycling as a recreation and as a restorative of health, and has ridden more than 30,000 miles on the bicycle on which he made the journey to Blair.

He says he feels ten years younger than he did ten years before he began the practice.

RAPA, PARADISE FOR LAZY MEN

Women Do All Work, Even to Feeding the Indolent Male of the Species.

NOT WORRIED BY CLOTHES

Natives Went Naked Until Scandalized White Missionary Hailing From Tahiti Gathered Old Garments for Them.

Rapa, Dangerous Archipelago, South Pacific.—They toil not, neither do they spin, and in all the reaches of the seven seas it would take a long voyage to find a more lazy population of men than Rapa's.

In Rapa the women are the hewers of wood and the drawers of water. In other happy climes of Micronesia and Polynesia the self-appointed "lord of creation" will deign to raise his hand aloft and pluck for himself the fruit of the banana and orange tree. In Rapa, however, he will not even feed himself.

When mealtime comes the woman of the family, after foraging for food and cooking it, must also put it into the mouth of her lord and master. They roll the taro "pol" into little balls and toss them into the open mouths of the men folks.

Not Worried by Clothes.

The people of Rapa wear no clothes—or did not until a scandalized white missionary from Tahiti insisted on gathering some old garments from his more favored parishioners in Papeete and hurried them to Rapa.

Rapa, known also as Oparo, is one of the most isolated and most interesting islands in the South Pacific. It lies south of Tahiti, far out in the tropics, included in the French settlements in Oceania and inhabited by Polynesians of the same type as the Tahitians.

It is one of the few spots most lightly touched by the finger of civilization. Seldom does a schooner touch here—not more than once a year—and once in a great while a French gunboat from Papeete will voyage into the Dangerous archipelago.

Has Coal Deposits.

The island itself is mountainous, with strange castle-like peaks rising in the interior. It possesses a good harbor, and, what is most unique in the South Sea islands, has deposits of coal, not of very good quality, though.

When the Panama canal was nearing completion there was much talk in Tahiti of establishing a coaling station here, Rapa being close to the southern great circle route and admirably adapted to such a purpose, but no such thing had come to rudely shock the serene existence of Rapa men.

LOYALTY TO MIKADO TAUGHT

Japanese Children in Hawaii Under Alien Influence, Mission Board Says.

Honolulu.—Certain priests and language school instructors in Hawaii are teaching young Japanese children their first loyalty is to the emperor of Japan, even if they become American citizens, the Japanese committee of the Hawaiian board of missions reported in submitting the following resolution:

"Be it resolved, that it is the point of view of the Hawaiian board at the beginning of the second century of mission work that for plantations to continue, as in the past, to financially assist the non-Christian religious organizations is detrimental to the welfare of Hawaii, and is a hindrance to the Christianization and Americanization of the alien peoples in the Hawaiian Islands, and we urge the members of the board financially interested in the plantations to present this view to the boards of directors."

Quotes Bible, but Goes to Jail for Contempt

Pittsburgh.—Appearing in court with a Bible under his arm, from which he quoted passages which prohibited divorce, Charles B. McCormick announced that he would rather go to jail than pay his wife, Eva M. McCormick, counsel fees and alimony in her divorce suit against him.

A few minutes later he was in a cell in the county jail, having been declared in contempt of court by Judge Drew after McCormick declared that, although he had plenty of money, he would rather go to jail than settle his conscience and disobey the Bible. Later he changed his mind, paid the alimony and was released.

Its area is officially given as 877.66 square kilometers, about 337.77 square miles), compared with Greater New York's 840 square kilometers (307.8 square miles), Paris' 490, London's 308, and Vienna's 275 square kilometers.

Greater Berlin now embraces eight townships, 50 villages and 27 rural districts.

Democratic Ticket

FOR PRESIDENT
JAMES M. COX, of Ohio.

FOR VICE-PRESIDENT
FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT, of New York.

FOR UNITED STATES SENATE
J. C. W. BECKHAM.

FOR CONGRESS
of Shelby County.

HON. KING SWOPE SPEAKS.

According to appointment Hon. King Swope met many of his supporters in the court-house last Monday afternoon. He spoke for about one and a half hours, reviewing his course in Congress, asking for an endorsement of his record, at the polls in November. He denounced the Democratic party; especially was he severe on President Wilson and the League of Nations. He stood by the reactionary United States Senators in their action in refusing to endorse Mr. Wilson's policy for a united peace.

He was frequently cheered during his discourse. He made a plea for the soldier vote, and felt sure of his re-election and the National ticket. He featured Harding as the coming man, and made little of Gov. Cox's charges of $15,000,000 corruption fund. Mr. Swope is quite a young man and has much to learn, but he is a favorite of his party in this county.

Last year Mr. Swope made his race on State issues, but in this address he said nothing about the increase in taxation under Mr. Morrow's administration. Neither did he state that under the National Democratic administration, the country was never so prosperous as now in the history of the world.

A mixed audience heard him, black and white, quite a number of white ladies, and his plea for the woman's vote was pointed.

He was introduced by Mrs. Geo. E. Wilson, who spoke of Mr. Swope's worth as a Congressman, appealing to the Adair county Republicans to support him.

"Harding the man" is the title of a book the Republican National Committee is sending out. It could not be added after man very consistently, "he stands on his bond and declares himself no changeling," as he has changed positions on the League of Nations eight times since he was nominated.

There are few county papers that claim to be Democratic, carry the ticket, but never say a word for it. Why the silence?

Governor Cox and Franklin D. Roosevelt keep to the vital issues of the campaign as expressed by the campaign slogan: "Peace, Progress and Prosperity." That is to say, they stress the League of Nations, the progressive ideals of government and the economic and industrial features of the platform and the reduction of taxation. These are the real issues that appeal to men and women alike, as demonstrated by Governor Cox in West Virginia and Indiana and by Mr. Roosevelt on his Western trip, where he found the people progressive, strong for the league and against Mr. Harding's plan to make the high cost of living a little higher.

An explosion of dynamite on Wall Street last Thursday, killed over twenty persons, wounded 200. There are different opinions as to how it occurred. Some think that it was a set bomb, while others believe that two trucks collided, one loaded with dynamite. Great excitement reigned throughout New York, and business on Wall Street was suspended.

Cox hits straight from the shoulder and talks to the hearts as well as the minds of his hearers. Roosevelt puts himself on friendly terms with his audiences and talks a language they can understand as easily as they can understand Governor Cox. Senator Harding shifts from one foot to the other and changes his mind as often as he changes his shirt. What he says is less like a speech than a political shimmy.

The Republicans are making a great deal of noise because their party carried Maine. It never goes any other way. Now, if there had been an election in Texas there is not a doubt as to how it would have voted, and the Democrats would not have torn their shirts off over the result, because they would have known how the State was going before the election.

Tom Watson was elected to the United States Senate from Georgia on account of the unpopularity of his opponents. Watson is against the league. Watch how the State goes in November.

Jo Bailey, who is against the league, won over two opponents in Texas for the nomination for Governor. Under the Texas rule a candidate must have a clear majority over all candidates to be nominated. Bailey did not have it, and another primary was pulled off and he was defeated over 100,000.

PENROSE CONCERNED.

In a recent interview given to a Philadelphia newspaper, Senator Boies Penrose, the Old Guard's uncrowned prince, gave voice to his fears that the Republicans may not control the next Senate. "We are more than likely to lose sitting Republican Senators in certain close States," said the Senator, doubtless having in mind fear of the voters visiting their wrath upon certain Senators whose course in the last session made them obnoxious to peace and justice-loving men and women of all parties.

"We have a normal majority in the Senate," continued the What's Doing in Russel Springs.

Mr. M. W. Cooper, who is in the milling business at Russel Springs, was in Columbia last Thursday. He stated that all classes of business in his town were fairly good, and there were no cases of serious illness in the community. He has at this time over three hundred thousand feet of lumber stacked, which is ready for the market. The pike thru the town is progressing finely and will be completed before cold weather. He further stated that there was but little interest in politics in his locality.

He was in Jamestown recently and was informed that Mrs. Phelps, mother of Hon. Lilburn Phelps, and who has been in a critical condition had been sent to the hospital at Somerset. She has many friends who would be glad to hear a favorable report of her condition. He further stated that the Graded School in his town under the management of Ad Tarter, was progressing finely. Prof. Tarter is assisted by Prof. Seth White, and wife. Fay Grider and Mrs. Martha Powell, all competent instructors.

Mr. Cooper is a Republican in politics, but he has been a supporter of the Adair County News for eleven years. He says he takes it for the news it contains and considers it one of the best county papers that comes into his town. He notices nothing unfair in the News in presenting its side politically, and the expressions it makes editorially is not offensive to him nor to the other Republicans of his town, so far as he knows.

J. B. DeGarmo.

Who will be the revivalist at the Baptist meeting.

Senator, "but this majority could not be counted upon over night on revenue legislation." Senator Penrose said there would be "no advantage in electing Mr. Harding if he was to be hamstrung by a Democratizing Senate. Such a condition would destroy his ability to make proper appointments, such as to four vacancies which probably will occur in the in the Supreme Court."

The Senator being a practical man, a sense of delicacy does not restrain him from calling attention to possible Supreme Court vacancies, and it is, of course, as necessary to have a Senate that will write a reactionary tariff schedule, or pass a revenue bill to suit the special interests Senator Penrose always carefully guards.

STRONG DRIFT TO COX

Having completed a whirlwind tour of the west, during which he traveled 7,500 miles by train, and about 600 miles by automobile, Franklin D. Roosevelt, will devote the next two or three weeks to campaigning in New England and New York, after which he will make a trip to the Southwest.

Commenting on his Western trip, Mr. Roosevelt said that "there is one outstanding impression from the trip that I stressed during my conference with Gov. Cox. That is, that the West wants to be 'shown'.

The great majority of the voters are not willing to make a choice 'sight unseen' but want to see and size up the candidates for themselves.

"There is absolutely no question but that a widespread aversion, amounting to disgust, exists among Republicans of progressive tendencies toward the present reactionary leadership of that party. Frankly they do not like Senator Harding and the Old Guard, and there is a strong leaning toward Gov. Cox, and I expect to see this sentiment crystallized by the Governor's swing during the next few weeks.

R. A. WHITE'S

Valuable 200 Acre River Farm

AT PUBLIC AUCTION

TUESDAY, SEPT. 28

AT 10 A. M.

This land will be subdivided and then offered as a whole, selling the way it brings the most money.

This farm is well improved from every standpoint, good dwellings, good barn and good outbuildings, good fence. On this tract of land there are 40 acres of creek bottom, the remainder being good strong limestone upland. It is well watered by never failing springs, ponds and wells. It has on it an A-1 good orchard and recently a lot of new trees have been set out. It is on a good and three-fourths of a mile from Whitewood. This farm is considered one of the best farms in the county of Green, inlet and outlet for both traveling and shipping facilities.

It is a known fact that 30 acres of good creek bottom land is considered as valuable and as good as the average 200-acre upland farm. Mr. White has two reasons for disposing of this land. One is on account of his age and the other that he owns more land than he wants.

Mr. White at the same time is going to sell a 115 acre farm. 75 acres of this land is valuable Green River bottom, the remainder being strong limestone land. This farm has a good house on it, all necessary outbuildings, under good fence, and good water at the door. It is 3 1/2 miles from the historical city of Greensburg. There are no two better improved nor two better bodies of land in the entire county of Green. This land is especially adapted to Burley tobacco, wheat, oats corn and rye.

NOW MEN, LISTEN!

This farm is absolutely going to sell. My firm is in the selling business and when we advertise over our signature that we are going to sell we always sell. There is only one way for you to get this bargain. Be on the ground the day of the sale and make the last bid. We are going to offer a $10.00 Gold Piece to the one that guesses nearest per acre what these two farms will bring. Every man, woman and child on the ground will be entitled to a free guess.

Terms of this sale will be easy and made known on day of sale. Anyone interested in this land will see Mr. White at Whitewood, or

Why Not?

It would be difficult to find a community where there is no fault finding, or back biting, or criticism, or covert sneers, for human nature is peculiar, and indulging in such questionable pastimes is one of its peculiarities.

But suppose human nature in this town should reverse itself for once—for an entire month.

Instead of saying or thinking unkind things of others, suppose each of us considered only the good in our friends and acquaintances and neighbors.

Suppose we were generous in our praises and lavish in our commendations, and each had something good to say about each other person.

What a revolution we would see!

We would behold the unheard of spectacle of every man and woman gradually outliving and forgetting the petty weaknesses of life.

We would each be filled with pride at the good things said of us, with no unkind word to mar our pleasure.

We would be striving to live up to and deserve the plaudits of others.

In time we would become in fact what others saw of us in fancy.

Close to the millennium, yes, but—

Why not?

SHIPPING BOARD FLEET FLEECE

Repair Men and Food Dealers in Agreement to "Pluck the Golden Goose."

$4 FOR POUND OF BUTTER

Investigator Reveals Wide System of Mulcting Among Men in the South American Trade—Is Quickly Stopped.

Buenos Aires.—The United States shipping board has been defrauded of many thousands of dollars through practices which amount to "systematic fleecing" of shipping board vessels in the River Plate trade, according to reports to the board by Capt. G. L. Carden, special representative of the shipping board emergency fleet in Buenos Aires.

Captain Carden, accompanied by Captain of Engineers L. C. Farwell, arrived here a month ago to take charge and protect the board's interests. "When I arrived here," he said to the Associated Press correspondent, "ship chandlers, repair men and others connected with the shipping industry seemed to be in a general agreement to mulct the shipping board vessels to the limit."

"In receiving my orders I was told that while the board appreciated the fact that expenses of all sorts were high in Buenos Aires and Montevideo, still it felt that there must be something wrong when their vessels paid such prices, for instance, as $4 a pound for butter."

"It seems that the practice was when a shipping board vessel appeared in the roads and signaled its desire to enter for those who had hopes of selling the vessels supplies to prepare for a plucking of the golden goose."

Food Thrown Overboard.

"Our arrival put a quick and effective stop to all this. We now have all shipping board vessels calling at this port report directly to us. We alone have the right to authorize purchases of supplies or expenditures for repairs. All repairs at present must be made according to specifications and under bond. Every bill must have my signature before it will be paid, and the result of this has been a saving of as much as 50 per cent on many items. Conditions formerly were so bad that I have even heard that in some cases food was thrown overboard in order to create a shortage, so that purchases could be made."

During the first four weeks of the supervision provided by the new arrangement it was officially estimated that a saving for the shipping board, which means for the United States government, of $50,000 for food alone and $25,000 for repairs was made. As a result of this campaign at least one arrest is expected when a certain ship arrives in New York.

There are 23 lines under the shipping board which have vessels calling at ports in this jurisdiction. There are on an average 22 vessels on hand at all times. The average cost for maintaining these is from $1,500 to $2,000 each per day. Before the war an American vessel on the River Plate was a curiosity.

$300,000 for Repairs.

"Since the shipping board has no offices of its own to take charge of its vessels in ports throughout the world," continued Captain Carden, "it was usually necessary to intrust the care of its ships to established agencies. Many of these steamship agents had already for years been representatives of foreign and possibly competing lines. The result has been that in many cases American vessels have been held back, while other ships were given the preference, causing the expenses of American ships to mount up through port charges and lost time."

"In all River Plate ports losses from this source have been very great, as well as those through overcharges for supplies, repairs and so forth. There is one case on record where an American ship was held up for months for repairs and charges totaling $300,000 were piled up against her. But we are seeing to it now that shipping board vessels get into port and get away again without unnecessary delay. The saving to the shipping board from this attention undoubtedly will be several hundred thousand dollars annually."

Paul Darde, Farmer's Son, Awarded Paris Salon National Prize for Sculpture.

Paris.—Paul Adolphe Darde, awarded the coveted Paris salon national prize for his "Faun" and "Eternal Suffering," is being greeted by critics as a genius.

Darde is not a trained artist in the academic way. He was a shepherd, the son of a small farmer, and fought in the World war. Today, though famous, he is only thirty-one years old.

"I have no preference," Darde says. "I love all that is beautiful in art as in life."

The "Faun" is a massive, vigorous conception, sneering, cynical and sensual. "Eternal Suffering" represents a woman's head, snake-entwined, with a face upturned in anguish.

Darde works directly in marble without a wax or plaster model.

Goodyear Tires for Small Cars Are Popular Because Economical

There is nothing but disappointment in buying cheaply made tires that are announced as wonderful bargains at a few dollars each and then fail after brief terms of service.

Get exceptional mileage at exceedingly low cost in Goodyear Tires, of the 30 x 3-, 30 x 3½- and 31 x 4-inch sizes, built of Goodyear-selected materials and with Goodyear skill and care. Due to their precise manufacture in the world's largest tire factory devoted to these sizes, their quality is most economically produced and therefore most economically employed.

If you own a Ford, Chevrolet, Dort, Maxwell or other car taking these sizes, go to your nearest Service Station for Goodyear Tires; ride farther and fare better.

normal conditions this population should have increased by the middle of 1919, to 424,210,000. However it had fallen by that time to 389,030,000, which led to the conclusion by Danish statistical experts that the loss of actual and potential life in these nations approximated forty millions.

Causes of the abnormal falling off in population were attributed in the society's report as follows: Killed in war, 9,819,000; deaths due to augmentation of mortality economic blockades, war epidemics, 5,301,000; fall in birth rate due to mobilization of fifty-six million men, between 20 and 45 years of age, 20,200,000.

Russel Creek

The health of this community is very good at this writing.

Some of our neighbors are in the sorghum camp this week.

Messrs. John Will and Ernest Cundiff attended a lawn party at Mr. Winfrey Beards of Taylor county recently.

Mr. Sam Suddarth left last Tuesday morning for the State Fair at Louisville. From there he will go to Kansas City, Western Kansas and Denver Colorado. He will be gone five or six weeks.

Miss Flora Wilson is conducting a good school this year.

Mr. Harris our old miller was visiting this community last week.

Mr. Cassius Hood our neighbor boy, who went to the mountains for his health is not improving as fast as we would like to hear.

We certainly enjoyed Mr. C. S. Harris letter in the News and hope that we will hear from him more frequently.

Big Elm.

On August 25th, the writer in passing Mr. James Voils' stock yard, saw about 100 birds. On first sight thought they were wild pigeons, but on further examination found they were not wild pigeons. They took wing about this time and went in a southwest direction.

We have a weather prophet in Russell county and we will give a few of his predictions. He says we will have but five snows next winter and they will be light. Thunder and lightning in January. And when you see the sun shine bright on the ground, we will have a hail storm in a few hours. When the old hen crows before day, look for a hard storm in a few days. No killing frost until Oct. 27.

The division of telephone lines from Big Elm to Denmark, a distance of four miles, were called together last Saturday by the President of the Company, and it was agreed by unanimous vote that the company sell no more stock in the line, and some other minor resolutions were past and the company adjourned.

The saw mill owned and operated by Antle, Hays and Coffey in this section are doing a fine business sawing. They have on the yard now about 600 logs. They have a bill to fill for shipment of 200,000 feet. They have three log wagons piling in the logs every day.

We have been having some slow showers in the last few days that is bringing out the late corn fast. We think it will come in before frost. We farmers are not willing to risk our profits prediction that we will have no killing frost until Oct. 27. Now, brother farmers lets get our green stuff saved by the 10 of October.

Mr. John Helm sent for the writer to come to his place. He, in moving some old logs on a hill side, had found the mouth of a cave. We got some lights and went into it. It was very small at the mouth but got larger, to where it was 10 feet wide, 8 feet to ceiling above. Dirt floors. On our left were deep pits and very dark. Our lights would not penetrate to the bottom. Their were several of the those pits and dangerous. After traveling about 200 feet we came to drip formations; the columns, nearly covered the floor, the stalactites swinging from the ceiling overhead, our lights flashing on the columns were the finest sight that man ever saw underground. Nothing on the top of the earth can present such beautiful shining appearance as those drip formations. The water that contained lime and magnesia, the magnesia escaped in the air and the lime was deposited on the columns. This exploration was made 33 years ago and no human being has been in that cave since on account of those dangerous deep pits.
